

BOY AIDS IN A PLOT TO SLAY HIS GRANDFATHER $25,000 ALIMONY IS GOULD GIVEN MRS.

VINELAND, N. J., Nov. 18.—Walter Zeller, 19 years of age, and Cline Wheeler, his 20-year-old companion, charged with the murder of William Read, the grandfather of Zeller, have confessed their guilt. Zeller has confessed to the murder plot, but seeks to lay the actual crime upon Wheeler. Herbert Griggs, another 18-year-old lad, implicated in the confession, disappeared from his father's farm yesterday. Zeller and Wheeler stated that the motive was robbery. Read was more than 70 years old and quite wealthy. "I had not anything to do with the murder," Zeller sobbed, "Cline and Herbert killed grandpa. I stayed four blocks away from the house while they did it. Wheeler fired the shot and later he came up to me and said, 'My God, Walter, we've killed your grandfather.'"

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Court today. This alimony is allowed pending the decision of Mrs. Gould's suit for divorce.

Miss Charity Rose Becomes Bride Before a Fashionable Throng in St. Bartholomew's

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—In St. Bartholomew's, the fashionable Fifth-avenue church whence most of the Vanderbilt brides have gone forth to matrimonial joys and wedded responsibilities, Charity Rose became the bride of Henry A. Alker yesterday. At 4 o'clock the big dim old church that has been the scene of hundreds of marriages in the smartest sets in the metropolis, the daughter and granddaughter of men associated with the growth of the Golden Gate State was wedded to a descendant of one of the old New York families.

"I, the granddaughter of a forty-niner, take you, the grandson of the founder of a famous old steamship line, to have and to hold till death do part," might have been the vow plighted by Miss Rose.

Prominent Families

Her father is Andrew W. Rose, long a business man of San Francisco and a brother of Mrs. William J. Dingle. Her mother is the daughter of Alvinza Hayward, whom everyone in California knew, for he was one of the company that crossed the plains in the year before '49, and who helped to build that which became the commonwealth of California. Mrs. Alphonse H. Alker, the mother of the bridegroom, is the daughter of James Ward, the founder and president of the Ward steamship line between New York and Cuba. Alphonse H. Alker is a prominent attorney of New York.

Fifteen hundred invitations had been issued to old friends on three continents, and the fashionably historic church was crowded with 600 of the invited guests. For three blocks the curb was fringed with the uninvited, the curious who always collect in the environs when a wedding of the smart folk is in progress.

Curious But Courteous

Guests peered forth anxiously from their carriages fearing a repetition of the scene when May Gould, newly wedded to the Duke of Roxburgh, lost portions of her wedding veil and the old lace flounces of her bridal gown to souvenir hunters. But this crowd of the curious was courteous to the wedding party—almost as much so as the guests who gathered within the doors of St. Bartholomew's.

The usher—Edward P. Alker, a brother of the bridegroom; Endicott Fiske, William Holloway, George and Edward Meyer, Carl Schunerman, William Stanley of Great Barrington, and Frank Whitney of Morristown, N. Y.—all classmates of the bridegroom of the class of '1907, Yale, bestowed the guests until no small corner of a pew was vacant. While waiting for the bridal party the guests admired the decorations of the church, which, unless thoughtfully and tastefully decorated, is of almost too sombre atmosphere.

Pink Decorations

The six marble pillars on either side of the church, in the side aisles, were covered with pink chrysanthemums specially grown in a greenhouse near New York for the wedding. Pink is the bride's favorite color and the growth of these many hundred chrysanthemums was a pleasant surprise arranged by her parents. To correspond with the six chrysanthemum would pillars of the side aisles, in the middle aisle, at intervals of every third pew, pillars were introduced for the occasion, around which were wound ropes of chrysanthemums, tied, as were the others, by broad bows of the same color. Pink chrysanthemums were massed about the altar.

Had Christened Bride

The wedding march from Lohengrin pealed forth when Bishop Greer appeared at the foot of the pulpit. There was a stir among the guests at sight of him, for many remembered that he had christened both the bride and bridegroom when they were infants. Dr. Leighton Parks, the rector of the church, followed him. He was to assist in the ceremony. A second later the bridegroom, with his eldest brother and best man, James Ward Alker, stood before the clergyman. The voices of the mixed choir reached the highest note as he sang "O Perfect Love," the bride was entering the church. Learning upon the arm of her father, Miss Charity Rose looked, but for her bridal veil, a debutante in her first long gown. She was petite as a

Bridal Party

Her bridesmaids, as becomingly gowned as the bride, wore gowns of rose-colored chiffon over a rose-colored silk slip. Their broad-brimmed, round-crowned hats were of white satin edged with pink satin. They carried huge bouquets of pink chrysanthemums. The bridal party was preceded by the bridegroom's sisters, Miss Mabel Ward Alker and Miss Florence Alker, also in pink and white, who scattered the pink blossoms in the path of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Madeline Wemple, Miss Pauline Fiske, Miss Louise Corwith, Miss Gladys Robbins, Miss Gladys Close McAlpin, Miss Florence Hotchkiss and Miss Mildred Ketcham Eagle.

Mrs. Rose, the mother of the bride, wore black lace over blue silk, en princess. The lace was elaborately trimmed with silver embroidery. Her hat, high crowned and of drooping brim, was of blue satin trimmed with a long blue plume.

Mrs. Alker, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in white lace over white satin. Her hat of white lace was trimmed with a white plume and jet.

Throughout the ceremony the choral service continued, softly repeating the stanzas of "O Perfect Love," a golden thread upon which were strung the pearls of the beautiful old bridal vows. The bride was given away by her father.

Reception Given

The reception took place at the home of the bride's parents, 22 East Fifty-seventh street, at 4:30 o'clock. The reception room and drawing room were decorated with masses of pink chrysanthemums. Standing with a bank of the pink blossoms as a background, Mr. and Mrs. Alker received the congratulations of their friends. One hundred and fifty guests paid this tribute to youth and joy. A few of them lingered to repeat these congratulations in the dining room, where the mahogany table flung back the reflections of the bridal bell of white lilies that hung above it.

Bridal Gifts

They remained to glance at the array of handsome bridal gifts. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a marquis ring. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett McInerney of San Francisco sent an ice cream set of china and silver. An after dinner coffee set came from Mr. and Mrs. R. A. C. Smith, a silver fruit dish from Mr. and Mrs. Cord Meyer, a lily lamp from Mr. and Mrs. William Lummis, an after dinner coffee set, Mr. S. J. Murphy; a salad dish, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith; cut glass punch set, Mr. and Mrs. James Corral.

A diamond and sapphire bracelet came from the parents of the bridegroom, a Tiffany glass bowl from Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Grant, a gold tea and coffee set from Mrs. William Kerr, antique chair, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Pratt, handsome Oriental rug, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Johnson.

Among the Guests

Among the invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Whitlaw Reid, Dr. Crosby Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. George Whitell, Mrs. and Mrs. Garrett McInerney, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Bont, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Booth, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McAlpin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Corwith, Mr. Edward H. Mr. Warner Van Orde, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Grace, Mr. John D. Crumrine, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dingle of San Francisco were unable to attend the wedding on account of the illness of Mr. Dingle.

Elaborate Gown

At seven o'clock the bride reappeared for a moment among the lingering guests in her going away gown, an imported costume of wine colored broadcloth elaborately embroidered in the same color and as becoming as her wedding costume. Skirt, chiffon blouse and long coat were all of the same shade. Her hat was of wine color, heavily trimmed with plumes.

The couple took the train for the South, where they will remain for about three weeks. After their return they will be at home at the residence of the bride's parents, 22 East Fifty-second street.

Truxtun Beale Sued For a Large Sum

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—A suit brought by Henry Levy against Truxtun Beale to recover $367,934.47 is the result of an agreement entered into between the two men early this year in a stock buying transaction. HAS RIVAL FOR GIRL'S HAND LOCKED IN JAIL

Feared Revolver

He kept his hand in his coat pocket and as I had been told that he carried a revolver and would use it if necessary to win the girl, I decided to keep peace for the time being. Rogers insisted that he wished to speak to the girl alone. I said that would be satisfactory, having faith in the girl. I said that I would let him talk himself to a standstill and would go out and buy a couple of cigars while he did the talking.

"I left the house and hunted up Policemen Reinhardt and returned to Miss Limberg's home with the officer. He took Rogers to jail. When he was searched, an automatic revolver was found in his coat pocket. Love seems to have overruled his mental balance."

Willing to Talk

"Rogers and I were friends," said Paul this morning, in discussing the case. "I have been keeping company with Miss Limberg for the past three months. I had introduced Rogers to the young lady. Recently I went on a visit to the country. During my absence Rogers took advantage of me and tried to win the girl's affection. I am informed by her that he has not succeeded."

"Last night I called upon Miss Limberg at her home. Upon arriving at the house I found Rogers in the parlor. I was anxious to find out where I stood in the affections of the girl of my choice, but I was called to a halt by his opportunity."

Flames Spread Fast. A rapid spread of flames followed, covering the center.

Mrs. Haas Prostrate at Funeral

(Special to The Tribune.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—The funeral of Morris Haas, who committed suicide Saturday night after his vain attempt to assassinate Special Prosecutor Francis J. Heney, was held in a quiet and unostentatious manner this morning from his former home, 1848 McAllister street. Quite a number of friends and close relatives of the family were present and the simplest of ceremonies were conducted by Bald Eagle Tribe of Redmen, No. 75. Mrs. Haas was so prostrated that she was unable to follow the remains to the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, where they were placed temporarily in a vault. This was done by order of Coroner Leeland, who may desire further access to the body.

HENY KEEPS IMPROVING

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—The rapid recovery of Special Prosecutor Francis J. The usual morning call made today by all of the physicians who have been attending Mr. Heney, and their report is, if anything, more favorable than that given out yesterday. The attorney has been able to sleep fairly well at night, and there is a singular absence of any complicating conditions as the result of the operation for the removal of the bullet.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick, you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles.

Have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember this name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

"The witness showed that the letters and even the spacing between the letters in the word in question as well as between the other words in the exhibit were identical to the same."

A peculiarly interesting exhibit was an envelope addressed to John Martin, 1802 West street, Binghamton, N. Y. It had been asked to determine whether or not the address had been written by the defendant himself. He said he had come to the conclusion, from a comparison of the letters in the superscription with those in the standard that the address had been written by the same person who had written the known exhibit.

Describes Writing

In this address the capital letter "J" was printed and was reversed. The witness declared that "J" was not written by the hand which had written the rest of the address. This the professor demonstrated by directing the attention of the jury to the inside of the envelope, which showed different pressure in the reversed "J" and the rest of the address. He then referred to another reversed "J" which was not written by the hand which had written the rest of the address. of the boodling board of Supervisors, and the chief witness and high trump card of the prosecution, was placed on the stand to undergo the searching, rigid, and almost cruel cross-examination of the defense. Attorney Ach has said the examination will take four weeks. Should this be correct, it seems highly probable that the year 1908 will have passed into history before the present lengthy and extraordinary trial will have been completed.

Little Excitement

Excitement was almost entirely lacking this morning, both inside and outside Judge Lawlor's court. The former boss came in from the county jail in exactly the same manner as he did yesterday, in a patrol wagon with a guard of deputy sheriffs and police. A strong force of police and detectives were again on duty in the courtroom, corridors and in front of the building and the precautionary measures put into effect immediately after the shooting have in no way been relaxed.

In the courtroom an extra railing has been run from wall to wall directly behind the press table, with but a single gate, located in the middle of the aisle and operating with a spring lock. This effectively cut off the spectators from pressing forward. At the gate stood a policeman and any one approaching the front part of the courtroom had to go through the center aisle past several policemen.

Big Legal Forces

The same legal forces were present on both sides. Attorneys Ach and Dooler with their bodyguards, Detectives Bunker and O'Connell, sat beside Ruef, while Attorneys Eizen Johnson, Matt L. Sullivan, J. J. Dwyer and Assistant District Attorney O'Garra, occupied the table of the prosecution.

As soon as the session opened, Judge Lawlor, in accordance with his intention expressed yesterday, made the following statement to the jury regarding the occurrences of last Friday. He said in part:

Indications Favorable

"Mr. Heney was shot by a man, Mr. Heney was wounded, but happily the injury was not a serious one, and at this time there is every indication that he will recover."

"That transaction as far as the court, the defendant, the jury, the people of the State of California are concerned, must stand as though that transaction had not occurred. It might also be stated to you that the assailant afterwards took his own life while he was confined in the county jail. I repeat that the entire matter should find no place in your mind."

Gallagher Called

The defense took exception to the statement made by the court to the jury and then called James L. Gallagher to the witness stand. The ex-supervisor was immediately questioned regarding his relations individually

ESTIMATES $5,21,000 FOR OAKLAND HARBOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—In his first annual report, General W. L. Marshall, chief of engineers, U. S. A., makes a strong appeal for an increase in the corps of engineers. River and harbor work estimates are submitted for the next fiscal year, ending June 30. Among improvements of rivers and harbors for which an estimate is made for the next fiscal year are the following: California—San Pedro bay, $100,000; San Luis Obispo harbor, $100,000; Oakland, $521,000; Hawaii—Honolulu harbor, $500,000; harbor at Hilo, $600,000; Porto Rico—San Juan, $380,000; Oregon and Washington—Columbia river, $1,164,000; canal at Cascades, Columbia river, $100,000; Columbia and lower Willamette, $200,000; mouth of Columbia, $450,000; Gray's Harbor, $100,000; Puget sound, $130,000.

Will Fight Hard

It is apparent from the questions of Walsh that the defense will make a strong fight to liberate the young keeper of the Alameda Gun Club on the ground that when he fired the rifle shot in the direction of the duck pond he did not see Moller, and, as a matter of fact, did not intend to kill him or anybody else. The lack of intent, it is expected by the defense, will clear the defendant of the charge of murder.

Each prospective juror is also asked what effect the fact that Ruef is a former convict will have on him in rendering a verdict. Ruef's term in

Thought Him Hones

"Have you ever heard anything reflecting on the character or integrity of John J. Furey?"

"Of Coffey, Davis, Boxton, or Coleman?"

"No, sir."

"Did you take any part in the labor conventions of the year in question?"

"No, sir; but I was active in the primary."

"Up to the time of this convention, had you any discussion with Mr. Ruef regarding the personnel of the Union Labor ticket?"

"No, sir."

"Did you meet him frequently, hadn't you, and spent evenings with him?"

"The witness stated that he had taken often with Ruef, spent evenings with him at various places, and that Ruef had given him advice and he in turn had counseled the former boss when his opinion was asked for on any subject."

In Fighting Mood

The proceedings were continued by several tilts between counsel and it would appear as though Attorney Ach is quite as willing to cross swords with the waterworks for the prosecution as he was with Ruef.

The board met with the other supervisors, he wanted to know whether they had ever said anything to him about getting money for their votes between the time of their election and their taking office. The witness responded that he had not indicated to him that he would like money, and that he would stand in with them.

Ach Makes Retort

Ach then began questioning on the same lines about each supervisor separately. To this Attorney O'Garra objected, saying that it would consume a great deal of time. Ach retorted as follows:

"It is remarkable how counsel is trying to direct the cross-examination. I intend to take up the supervisors one after the other until stopped by the court. I am defending my client as well as my meager abilities will permit."

Attorney O'Garra then said he thought the mere preliminary questioning about to be continued and the examination went on.

Mammoth Balloon On Rapid Voyage

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The mammoth balloon, owned by the Daily Graphic, ascended from here this morning and will attempt to reach Siberia and break the long distance record. The aeronauts on board are Gauron and Captain Muttland and they are accompanied by a newspaper man named Turner. They expect to reach the bottom of the sea and, passing over Germany, they come on bank over Russia Thursday. The plan is to descend in Siberia on Friday. The success of the voyage depends upon the air currents over Europe continuing in the direction they are blowing at present.

RESTAURANT MEN ELECTS OFFICERS

The Restaurant Keepers' Association of Oakland, held its annual convention at the rooms of the Merchants' Exchange on Thursday, November 12, and elected the following officers: President, T. T. Kessler; Vice-President, E. Kessler; Secretary, E. J. Zinkand; Treasurer, E. J. Kessler; Finance Committee, A. Chack and P. Casella; Membership Committee, John Smith and T. Dwyer.

The annual banquet will be held the last week in January.

ONLY ONE MAN ACCEPTED FOR JURY IN REA MURDER TRIAL

Many Express Prejudice Against Gun Club Keeper Who Killed Carl Moller Because He Is an Ex-Convict.

After two days of examining jurors from the regular jury panel of the Superior Court but one juror has been accepted to sit in the murder trial of John Rea for the killing of Carl Moller in the marshes near Newark on September 18. This juror is Gavin Atchison. Five other men have been temporarily passed. They are Smith J. Hill, G. R. L. Answorth, John Hart, James King and William H. Harris. Several prospective jurors have been excused for bias or prejudice, or because of the fact that they have read too much regarding this case in the public press.

Attorneys Phil M. Walsh and H. Porter Ashie are conducting the defense of Rea. Attorney Walsh is handling the case so far as expediting the jury is concerned. Each man that takes his place in the box is asked whether or not he has read of the case. This answer is always in the affirmative. Few men read any details of the case, saying the matter had slipped from their mind.

It is apparent from the questions of Walsh that the defense will make a strong fight to liberate the young keeper of the Alameda Gun Club on the ground that when he fired the rifle shot in the direction of the duck pond he did not see Moller, and, as a matter of fact, did not intend to kill him or anybody else.

The confession of Rea to Sheriff Burnett will be a strong link of evidence against him when the trial goes on before the jury. Owing to the fact that Ashie has a case in San Francisco regarding his attempt on Friday, the proceedings will adjourn from tomorrow afternoon to Monday morning. It will probably be about the first of next week before the taking of testimony will begin.

SUSPENSION OF HIGH SCHOOL BOYS UPHELD BY DIRECTORS

Committee Approves Action of Principal in Punishing Theatergoers

The judgment of C. B. Keves, principal of the Oakland High School, and his action in suspending the boys who were caught in the theater, was upheld by the directors of the school.

The committee which presented the resolution consisted of Herbert Sullivan, Harold Lew, William Dunn and Deming Smith.

The resolution is as follows: "Resolved, That the absence from school of the football team on the afternoon of November 11 without previous permission and in violation of the rules of the school, was deserving of punishment; and, in view of the serious consequences which might result to our suspended schoolmates from a continuance of the suspension, it is the policy of the school to suspend the boys who were caught in the theater."

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 10 to 2. The two dissenting votes were cast by Messrs. Keves and Smith.

On November 11 the students will be reinstated.

Last Monday a new meeting was held by the boys of the school on the steps of the Observatory for the purpose of drawing up a resolution requesting Keves to have the suspended boys reinstated.

PLEADS VAINLY FOR WIFE TO RETURN, SAYS SHORB

Declares Spouse's Charge That He Cannot Support Her Is Untrue.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Bernardo V. Shorb is going to fight the divorce suit of his young wife, Elizabeth. In an answer to her complaint, filed yesterday, he prays that the action be dismissed.

Mrs. Shorb's suit was based upon an allegation of her husband's wilful neglect to provide her with the common necessities of life. She asserted that he told her he had not the ability to maintain her and consequently she was compelled to leave him and return to the home of her father, on July 25, last—three weeks after the marriage.

Shorb says he is ready and willing to maintain his wife, and able to do so, but that she refuses to return to him. They lived happily together during the three weeks prior to her desertion, Shorb says, and he had ample means not only to give her the necessities of life, but also some of the luxuries.

Brief Honeymoon

Their wedding journey lasted from July 2, the day of the marriage, until July 18, when they returned to San Francisco and went to live at the Hotel Majestic. They continued to reside there until July 25, when Mrs. Shorb deserted him, the defendant says. The Majestic hotel is one of the best in the city, according to Shorb, and while there he says he maintained his wife in a mode of living fit, proper and reasonable. He paid at the rate of $10 a month for rooms and board.

Twenty times since his wife left him, Shorb says, he has requested her to return to him, but invariably she has refused.

FORESTERS WILL HOLD MONTHLY WHIST PARTY

This evening will occur the fourth of the monthly Whist tournaments given by the Forester Circle, at Foresters' hall, Thirteenth and Clay streets. Eight beautiful pieces of hand painted china are on exhibition in the windows of the Metropolitan Furniture company, Twelfth street near Washington street, and a solid silver spoon will be given as a door prize. On the last occasion a number of whist players had to be turned away for lack of room, as these parties are becoming well known on account of the pleasant features introduced and the handsome prizes.

Miss Birdie Pitcher and an able committee will conduct the game.

Wealthy Commission Merchant Stated That His Wife Would Provide for the Children.

The will of the late George S. Wheaton was filed for probate with the county clerk late yesterday afternoon by Edson P. Adams, who has been requested by the widow to act as executor.

The will is holographic, and was executed August 2, 1907. It bequeaths the entire estate to his widow, Ida Belle Palmer Wheaton. No provision is made for the three children, Ida Belle, aged 5; George Stewart, aged 3, and Palmer, aged 1 year, the testator stating that he has perfect confidence their mother will take good care of them.

The estate consists of a $5000 life insurance policy in the New England Life Insurance Company; two $5000 life insurance policies in the Pacific Life Insurance Company; a $10,000 accident policy in the same company; 156 shares of stock in the Wheaton, Ford & Harrell Company; a lot in Golden Gate, eight acres of land in Pierce county, Wash.; $1000 due on a promissory note, stock in the Channel Light Mining Company and $500 on deposit in the Farmers and Merchants' Bank.

The widow has requested that Adams be appointed administrator of the estate.

ROW OVER TRANSFER LEADS TO A FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Because he bit off the end of his finger which he carried in his mouth, Harry McCrea, a detective attached to the Pinkerton agency, got into a dispute with the conductor of an F.M.D. street car at an early hour this morning which resulted in his arrest on a charge of battery. McCrea boarded the car at Market street, and presented the abbreviated transfer to the conductor, who remonstrated with him.

"Why didn't you eat it all up?" asked the conductor.

"Well, never mind," replied McCrea. The detective says that each time the conductor came through the car he was taunted until finally he noticed the car man make a move as though to strike him. A mixup followed and Policeman W. Hilbert intervened and locked up McCrea.

CINCINNATI TRIP OF TAFT TO SEE HIS NIECE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Close friends of President-elect Taft in this city credit him with a pretty sentiment in connection with his two days' visit to Cincinnati. That Mr. Taft went to Ohio expressly to see his niece, a daughter of his brother Charles P. Taft, who is ill, and not to discuss political matters, is the information received here last night.

GREAT BALLOON RACE CALLED OFF

One of the Big Bags, After Hard Battle, Taken Home in an Auto

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—The transcontinental balloon race, promoted by Dick Ferris, and participated in by the two big balloons America and United States, is off. It ended where it started. The last one of the big gas bags to return to this city after the start on Sunday by the America and on Monday by the United States was the latter, which was brought in from Corona last night in an automobile.

The United States was the plaything of variable winds all last night and the occupants of the basket gave up the struggle to get over the mountains at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. They descended at Corona and, securing an automobile, packed the big bag in the tonneau, after disinflation it, and drove to this city, arriving at 5 o'clock last night.

The Plague in California.

Collier's Weekly is still perturbed about the plague situation on the Pacific Coast. It persists in the belief, real or simulated, that there is danger of the disease becoming epidemic in California. Its first article, printed some weeks ago, was a hasty generalization of inaccurately stated facts, concluding with a ridiculously illogical deduction. It has been compelled to correct some of its misstatements and modify its jumped at conclusions, but it still insists that there is danger of an outbreak of bubonic plague in the region around San Francisco bay, and charges the municipal authorities with neglecting proper precautions against the propagation and spread of the disease. By way of correcting its former alarming statements, Collier's prints a statement from Dr. Rupert Blue, of the United States Marine Hospital Service, who is in official charge of the plague situation (if the term be admissible) in San Francisco, in which he says:

"The latest human case of plague occurred in San Francisco January 30th last, and the last infected rat was found July 28th last. In the past eight months but four cases have occurred in California, as follows:

"July 15th, Contra Costa county; July 21st, Alameda county; July 24th, Contra Costa county; August 11th, Los Angeles county. "It is believed by the officials in charge that the situation in California is satisfactory."

It is not true that Oakland has neglected measures to stamp out bubonic plague. This city spent some $80,000 in a rat crusade, instituted a thorough sanitary cleaning up, and is now as clean as any city of its size in the world. At present garbage is not incinerated because the city owns no incinerating plant. But the garbage collected in Oakland is dumped in the ocean miles outside the heads. Householders are required to deposit refuse in covered metallic cans. In the tax budget provision has been made for the erection of a garbage crematory, which will be installed as soon as the funds are available and a site selected.

The special crusade against rats was suspended because it threatened to bankrupt the city treasury, and was yielding infinitesimal results for the money expended. It reached a stage where it cost several dollars to kill a rat, and of the rats killed only a trifling percentage were found to be infected. There is grave dispute among medical men as to the genuineness of a number of the cases diagnosed as plague.

The presence of bubonic plague in San Francisco was authoritatively established upward of ten years ago, and cases have sporadically appeared at intervals ever since. There has never been the slightest appearance of an epidemic. A large proportion of the plague victims were Orientals subsisting on an unclean diet and living amid unsanitary surroundings. The only normally healthy persons of European extraction attacked in San Francisco fell victims after the great fire, when the mass of the people were living in a most disorderly way, and the sewer system was completely dislocated. But only a very few such persons were attacked. Experience here as well as elsewhere has demonstrated that bubonic plague seldom attacks healthy, well-nourished people of good habits who observe the laws of sanitation.

During the decade that the plague has been present here the total number of deaths from it in the entire State of California is less than 400, and a considerable proportion of the cases rated as plague are questioned by excellent medical authority. The plague made its appearance at different times at various seaports in Mexico, Central America and South America, but in not one of them did it become epidemic, although Spanish-American cities are notoriously neglectful of sanitation, hygiene and dietary laws.

Of the myriad rats killed in this vicinity only an occasional one was found to be infected, yet the plague obtained lodgment here long enough ago for all the rodents in California to have become innoculated. So far as human beings are concerned, the plague has, with a few exceptions, affected only the riff raff of society living in the slums.

Ten times as many people have lost their lives in street car accidents as have been killed by plague. Alcoholism and suicide have carried off many more victims than the plague, which is pictured to be such a deadly peril.

The trouble is that the physicians who are active in the plague propaganda reason from non-existent facts. They assume that the same conditions are prevalent in America and the advanced nations of Europe as prevailed in Europe during the fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. They point to the plague epidemics in London, Paris, Marseilles and the Italian cities prior to the year 1700 as terrifying examples of what we are likely to suffer in the United States. The mighty change in conditions appears to have escaped them. They ignore the fact that no real epidemic of plague has occurred in Western Europe for nearly two centuries, although cases of the pestilence have appeared a multitude of times in the chief maritime cities of the old world.

In the Orient, where the pestilence is epidemic, it does not rage with the virulence which characterized it in hygienic ages. A vast majority of its victims there are the half-starved, emaciated poor, who dwell in filth and subsist on an insufficient and unclean diet, decayed fish and vegetables, and who drink polluted water. This fact is observable all along the Chinese and Hindostan littoral.

Physicians can correctly diagnose the plague and prescribe methods for its treatment, but they often ignore the facts of history and human experience in dealing with pestilence as an economic problem. They seem oblivious of the fact that the conditions which made bubonic plague so terrible in past times have passed away in our advanced civilization.

However, humanity owes the medical fraternity a debt that can never be repaid. Practically every sanitary and dietetic reform is ascribable to the unselfish labors of medical men, who placed their knowledge at the public disposal, and strove, as they are striving today, to induce people to live and deport themselves in such manner as to ward off disease. Instead of devoting themselves to the cure of ailments, physicians as a class strive to induce mankind to drink pure water, eat clean food properly prepared, and to observe the laws of sanitation and hygiene. In this way they are robbing such pestilential diseases as the bubonic plague of their danger and terror. While some of them are disposed to be alarmists regarding the danger of plague in this section, it is wise to take such practical precautions as they suggest.

Says the Los Angeles Express:

"Los Angeles presents its compliments to the committee of the Legislature in session in this city today and assures it that all it asks or desires of the Legislature or the State with relation to the harbor is the power to proceed in freedom, at its own cost, to the work of improvement and development."

That expresses precisely the position of Oakland. Harbor improvement is, of course, the province of the national government, but the control and improvement of the water front is another matter. The water front of Oakland belongs to the city, and should remain under the control of the municipality. All projects for developing and improving it should proceed only on the authority of the city. Nor do we see any reason why anyone should interfere with the city's prerogative in this matter. The desire of Los Angeles to retain control of the harbor she has recently annexed is entirely reasonable. However, we have heard of no intention to disturb her control beyond the fact that legislative action will be necessary to make that control effective.

Standard Oil has just declared a 10 per cent dividend. The publicity given the Archbold letters does not appear to have interfered with the prosperity of the Rockefeller corporation.

The President has omitted Samuel Gompers from the list of labor leaders invited to the White House dinner, at which labor legislation will be discussed, but Gompers is to remain president of the labor federation. Some journals seem to think this entitled Gompers to a "bit" to the President's table. Why does not rationally appear. Surely the President is at liberty to choose his own guests and to select whom he pleases to discuss legislation with. If Gompers had supported Taft instead of supporting him, the President would probably have extended him an invitation to his labor dinner, but that is only a matter of conjecture. At any rate, no moral or other obligation rests upon Mr. Roosevelt to sit at table with Gompers or discuss proposed legislation with him. The dinner is to be an informal affair, and in such cases the personal equation is not to be ignored. Besides, the President does not legislate; he merely presents his ideas and recommendations to Congress, and he is not bound to consult Gompers or anybody else before so doing.

If Chief Biggy does not look out he will find himself enmeshed in the web of the plot William J. Burns is weaving about the assassin-suicide Hays. The public may be prepared at any time to learn that Biggy has all along been a higher-up in disguise.

By the defeat of Hepburn of Iowa and the retirement from Congress of James S. Sherman, who is elected Vice-President, Congressman Knowland will be advanced two places higher on the Interstate Commerce Committee. This is one of the most important committees of the House, being regarded as even more influential than the Rivers and Harbors Committee, and second only to the Appropriations and Ways and Means Committee. Assignments on this committee are very much sought after, hence Mr. Knowland's advance in rank will give him a more influential voice in legislation. Secretary Metcalf's place on the Ways and Means Committee is now filled by Congressman Needham of the Sixth California district, and will thus be in an excellent position to defend California's interests when the tariff is revised. Interstate commerce legislation is important to California, hence Mr. Knowland's advance of position will redound to the advantage of this State.

Reform by lying, calumny and vilification proceeds apace.

The slump in the New York stock market is no cause for uneasiness. It is not a sign of business depression or financial weakness, but a natural result of the gambling methods of Wall street. A month before the election it became evident to every intelligent observer that Taft would be elected by a sweeping majority. The stock market was boosted by shrewd operators, who represented that there would be a big rise in case of a Republican victory. The rise came before the election, and immediately after that event the stock gamblers unloaded at a large profit. The consequence was an immediate sag in the market. The real business of the country is not affected one way or the other.

The San Bernardino Index says the total vote cast in Alameda county at the last election was only 33,265. On the contrary, it was 37,916. An error in adding up the unofficial returns caused the report to be sent out that only 33,265 votes had been cast. However, the number really cast is inexcusably small. Not only did a large number of citizens fail to register, but 25 per cent of those who did register neglected to vote. To register and vote is one of the first duties of citizenship.

Tomalty Case Put Over for One Week

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—James C. Tomalty, the accused bookkeeper attached to the office of Treasurer McDougall, whom it is alleged is responsible for the disappearance of $20,000 from the funds of the city, appeared in Judge Cabanis' court this morning.

Owing to the fact that the grand jury is busily engaged in the investigation of Tomalty's transactions, on motion of his attorney, Joseph O'Donnell, and with the consent of Assistant District Attorney Block, the matter was put over until November 23.

Rich Butcher's Auto Explodes and Burns

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—While driving along Railroad avenue near Thirty-second avenue at 8 o'clock this morning, the gasoline tank in an automobile in which were H. Levy, the well known wholesale butcher, and his son, exploded. The hand-some machine was instantly enveloped in flames and an alarm was turned in from box 545. The department arrived a few moments later and put out the blaze, but the auto was practically ruined.

WRECKJAPANESE NAVY IS GIVEN INSPECTION

Entire Fighting Craft Passes Before Head of Country and Festivities Follow the Event—Impressive Sight.

Kobe, Japan, Nov. 14.—The fighting craft of Japan, comprising 110 vessels exclusive of submarines, passed in review before the Emperor today. The weather was perfect and the occasion was one long to be remembered.

Notwithstanding the recent plague scare, the Emperor and his attendants arrived at Kobe as early as 9 o'clock this morning and on his way to the harbor front drove through the streets crowded with their stout chauffeurs and rendered gorgeous by the array of magnificent decorations in his honor.

Embarking on the battleship Asama, the Emperor was welcomed by Admiral Togo and the other admirals of the fleet. As dozens of guns volleyed their salute the sun emerged from behind a cloud, transmuting the great array of ships with their flying banners and pluming outlinings on a distant hillside—the outline of an anchor, composed of pines, planted by school children in 1903.

Congratulates Navy

The Asama, with Admiral Togo on the bridge, steamed slowly between the lines of warships until availing, with every band playing the national anthem. Togo, at the Emperor's side, detailed the strength and equipment of each vessel, pointing out the ships captured from Russia during the Russo-Japanese war.

The review was concluded shortly before noon and the officers took lunch on the Asama. As the Emperor left the flagship the entire fleet united in a thunderous salute. Prior to his departure, the Emperor gave the Emperor congratulatory message to the navy upon its great improvement, due to the energies of officers and men. At Kobe tonight the scene is a magnificent one. The entire fleet is outlined in electric lights and the city is swarming with enthusiastic crowds.

Dentist Acquitted
On Teacher's Charge

ROANOK, Va., Nov. 14.—Dr. W. A. Gregory, a dentist of this city, was acquitted last night of the charge of attempted criminal assault upon Miss Gordon Irish, a college teacher of New York. Mrs. Irish claimed that the dentist attempted to assault her while she was a patient in his office and under the influence of chloroform.

The jury accepted the defense's theory that Mrs. Irish was laboring under hallucination produced by the drug.

Mad Rush for Tickets for Yale-Harvard Game

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 18.—More than 75,000 people who want to see the Yale-Harvard football game Saturday will be disappointed according to estimation made at New Haven yesterday. The public whose wish to get tickets must be ignored. There are fully 25,000 more No. 100 tickets, Yale alumni and undergraduates who are usually included in the list of allotted tickets who cannot be cared for this year. The rush to secure seats for the game has become almost maddening. Yale football officials announced yesterday that they had returned $30,000 that was forwarded and accepted conditionally for tickets and that they refused because tickets do not exist to fill the demand. They estimate that they must send back $20,000. The Harvard management has sent some more seats down to relieve the situation in New Haven.

---every dollar deposited in a bank raises your salary

Wednesday evening, November 18th, 1908.

There's nothing that works as incessantly as money.

For 24 hours in the day money at interest plays at its trade of earning more money for its owner.

A dollar deposited in a savings account raises a man's income—virtually increases his salary.

Not only does money, at interest, enlarge his income, but it increases his ability to earn more money, for it gives him a feeling of independence.

There's nothing so discouraging as to be out of money and out of work, for it's always hard for a discouraged man to get a job.

The man with a few dollars in the bank has something to brace him up—something to fall back upon if necessary—something working for him.

There are two ways to deposit. First, a checking account, against which you can draw checks to pay your bills; and, second, a savings account which earns interest.

Suppose you drop in and talk matters over with us. It will do no harm to do so and may be the means of your taking a step that will guide you to a prosperous old age.

TO RETURN TO ALAMEDA
WHEN COURSE IS OVER

ALAMEDA, Nov. 18.—Paul Cadman, a well known Alameda young man, who went East a year ago to enter the University of Tennessee, writes that he will finish his present study course next June and will then return to Alameda for a visit with his relatives and many friends here.

A married man's conscience doesn't worry him much until his wife begins to sit up and take notice.

Chamber OF Commerce

Vol. 1. No. 101.
OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, NOVEMBER 18, 1908.

Published by THE COMMITTEE ON PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Kindly mail all items of interest concerning Oakland and its surrounding suburbs to this department.

G. C. HART, Editor.

Communications relating to the progress and prosperity of Oakland and Alameda county will be thankfully received. Suggestions for the improvement of these daily reports will always be welcome and new citizens who desire to put their shoulders to the wheel for Oakland are invited to communicate to this committee. The Chamber of Commerce has room for a thousand new members.

EDITORIAL SECTION.

The "Full Measure Man" in every organization of any size is a few men who do all the work. It isn't from choice that they assume these responsibilities; it's simply their overpowering sense of duty. This is a little bit of the "full measure man" who wants to find a thousand and more just as willing to do their share. There are plenty of self-sacrificing men who are willing to work overtime for their own gain, but good civic workers are hard to find. In the first place, our Chamber of Commerce ought to be supported by a better, broader, more active membership—those who belong ought each to get at least one new member. Those who do not belong individually should send in their applications.

A thousand "full-measure men" would agree to give Oakland 2 hours of their time one night a week and out of that day a week could make Oakland the best advertised city of this coast. If you're with us hold up your hand. We're all working for the good of the city and its up to you to jump in and help.

If Oakland supplies your living you ought to help look out for her welfare. We'll tell about it tomorrow.

A SOLUTION PASSED REGARDING SOUVENIR EDITION OF OAKLAND. Committee on Progress and Prosperity to Assist in Getting Out Creditable Souvenir—Expect to Procure Subscriptions for 50,000 Extra Copies.

The Chamber of Commerce is besieged with letters every day from the Eastern States requesting literature about Oakland and suburbs. Isn't it a shame that we only have a small $25.00 pure book to send these people? You're certainly with us in that "Illustrated Magazine" entitled "OAKLAND: THE CITY OF OPPORTUNITY." Think of sending a prospective Californian a handsome 50-page magazine, beautifully illustrated, showing our resources and attractions.

Your funds ready, the "boys" will be around for support. If you have the right spirit you'll send an order to the committee for 100 of these at a copy.

We'll tell about it tomorrow.

FAMOUS ACTRESS DIES IN LONDON

Probably No Other English Woman Excited Such Furore in U. S. as Lydia Thompson.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. — A dispatch from New York to the Record-Herald, says:

Lydia Thompson, perhaps the most famous burlesque actress of her time, died suddenly yesterday at her home in Westminster Mansions, near Westminster Abbey, London, England. The news reached this country in a brief cablegram to her daughter, Zeffi Tumbury, herself an actress, who is the wife of L. F. Woodthorp, stage manager for Nat Goodwin.

Probably no other woman of the English stage either in the serious or frivolous phases of the drama, excited such a furore in the United States as did Lydia Thompson when she first came here in 1868. Her reputation had preceded her, however, for she already had made a triumphal tour of the chief capitals of Europe.

Born on February 19, 1835, she first earned a reputation as a dancer in fairy spectacles and burlesques as far back as 1852 at Her Majesty's Theater, London.

The following year became her dramatic career in pantomime at the Haymarket, and in 1858 she toured Europe, where she won such favor that in many cities she was serenaded and escorted by torchlight parades.

MRS. GOULD TO APPEAR IN THEATRICAL BENEFIT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. — According to an announcement made by Frederick Townsend Martin, plans have been completed for an entertainment to be held at the Plaza Hotel on February 11 and 12, at which funds will be raised to combat the spread of tuberculosis. Aside from the proceeds of the entertainment, subscriptions will be taken, the money to be added to a fund already started by Henry Phipps.

Its distribution will be in charge of a committee of well known physicians. Mrs. George Gould, who last year gave a private theatrical performance at the Plaza, will appear in the coming benefit entertainment, it is said. Two one-act plays and six tableaux will be presented.

Watched Fifteen Years. "For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer or burn to which it was applied. It has saved us many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy of East Wilton, Maine.

SWEPT TO SEA IN OPEN BOAT

Wrecked on Angel Island After Being Carried Through Heads and Back.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18. — Hidden in a cold fog, eight boys spent Monday night adrift in an open boat beyond the heads, reaching safety yesterday when the incoming tide swept them ashore at Angel Island. All through the night anxious parents waited for news of the missing lads, who had gone for a pleasure sail.

The boys who participated in the eventful cruise were George Landridge, 14 years of age, of 1342 Green street; Wilfred Baik, 15 years of age, of 1229 Vallejo street; Thomas Costello, 23 years old, of 2227 Webster street; George Opperman, 19, who lives in Scott street near 11th; Frank Sutors, 15, of 3047 Van Ness avenue; Joseph Cullaro, 19, of 2329 Larkin street; and Joseph Riordan, 23 years of age.

Becalmed in Fog

The boys set sail in the evening. When far out in the bay the wind fell and the fog shut down. They drifted beyond the heads and all save Costello were overcome with seasickness. Then came a desperate attempt at the oars to regain the bay.

After many hours hard work the boat drifted against a rock and split, and the boys were thrown upon the shore. They pulled shattered parts of their boat on land and started a fire, not knowing whether they had drifted. After some hours two of the boys started on a tour of exploration. They encountered two soldiers and learned that they had landed on Angel Island. From there they were brought to the city on the island tug.

AGAINST PRESENT INSURANCE TAX

General Campaign Against Levies of the Various States Is Planned.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—The Record-Herald in a news story today says: A general campaign against the present methods of insurance taxation by the state is planned. The life insurance companies are to meet in New York December 5th, to organize their policyholders, and the casualty companies are also enlisted. The executive committee of the International Association of Accident Underwriters will meet in New York Friday to prepare to co-operate in the work.

At that meeting the executive committee of the board of casualty and surety underwriters, the Detroit Insurance Association, the Detroit Conference and the Federation of Commercial Travelers also will be in attendance, and the plans will be perfected for placing before every policyholder in the country, details of what the association calls "the great wrong on policyholders by taxation insurance premiums."

It is understood that the fire insurance companies are also preparing to co-operate.

GHOSTS COMPEL NANCE O'NEILL TO SELL CURIOS

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Having just disposed of her equity in the Tremont estate, Nance O'Neill, the actress, now offers for sale at auction her personal curios collected in many lands. The auction will be held in this city today.

McKee Rankin, the actor, her manager, in telling why the place had been sold, said that Miss O'Neill got along fairly well while ghostly visitors took it out in hanging doors, smashing plates, and similar little harmless pranks, but when one appeared to her in person and threw her into a state of coma from which her physician had trouble in rousing her, it was time to quit.

Rankin and Miss O'Neill are due in San Francisco the latter part of this week to answer a suit concerning the rights to the production of "The Fires of St. John," one of the favorite plays of Miss O'Neill's repertoire.

WOMEN WILL CAMPAIGN THE VOTE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—A series of big equal municipal suffrage meetings in the down town district, as well as in every corner of Chicago, is being planned to arouse interest in the movement.

Headquarters were opened yesterday and a progressive and aggressive campaign, not unlike the primary battles, will be started. The committee representing the 101 women's clubs engaged in the campaign, will distribute posters setting forth the claims of the women suffrage. Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Catherine McCulloch and Mrs. Oliver W. Stewart are leading the movement.

MOTHER POINTS GUN AT EMBRACER OF DAUGHTER

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—A pretty girl, an attempt upon the part of a village postmaster to embrace her and an intimate with her daughter, resulted in her hand and vengeance in her eye. A startling drama in the post-office at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., yesterday, tragically was narrowly averted.

The principals were Mrs. Mary McDowell, her nineteen-year-old daughter, Sarah, of 11111 Vernon, and Dr. W. Chambers, stockbroker and postmaster at Wilkes-Barre. That Chambers was not shot is due to the fact that in her haste Mrs. McDowell forgot that she had fired just previously in the day and that it contained only empty shells.

The girl asserts Chambers came from behind the counter and embraced her despite her struggles and protests.

Poor Tools And A Good Worker

That is What Makes Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Taste, Foul Breath and Catarrh.

The stomach is a good, strong vital organ, which is constantly protecting and feeding every other organ of the body. It is the most abused, neglected and most mismanaged of all organs. Most men abuse their stomach with undercooked food, high living, alcohol, tobacco, pastries and sources of other unhealthy practices.

When the stomach at last sickens of all this abuse and cannot do its duty, most men are not worried, but keep up their assaults on the stomach until at last it rebels and begins to strike back and cry for help. Man by his own abuse has taken away from the stomach the tools to work with.

These tools are the gastric juices which make up the digestive agents. From 7 to 35 lbs. of gastric juice are turned into the stomach every day. When poor, poisonous food consumes this juice, dilutes it, robs it of its strength and throws it, a fermented mass, from the system, of course there is just that much of the gastric fluid which cannot be readily supplied by the blood.

When food enters the stomach filled with depleted fluids lacking of power to do their part, the good, strong stomach is unable and, of course, cannot succeed in its work.

A condition which often prevails is that which we call the gastric juice. If the juice were wholly alkaline it would not only destroy and digest the food, but would eat and digest the stomach itself. Such gastric fluid does the digestion no good and attacks the walls of the stomach, making them raw and sore and setting up inflammation and irritation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will strengthen a stomach filled with poor gastric juice. They will remove any abnormal alkaline condition, allow irritation, soothe the inflamed, remove catarrhal conditions and digest food, no matter how the stomach has acted before.

Many tablets contain an ingredient, one grain of which will digest perfectly 3,000 grains of food. They will digest and digest the food in the stomach and add of any other force except themselves. They have demonstrated this fact many times.

Every drugstore carries them in stock, price 50c, and 4,000 physicians use them in the practice. Send your name and address and we will mail you at once a trial package free. Address, F. A. Stuart, Co., 120 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

MAN BITTEN BY DOG DIES OF HYDROPHOBIA

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Gustav A. Wolf Jr., died at the German-American Hospital early yesterday morning of hydrophobia. The young man, who was 23 years old, was bitten on the right hand August 30th in rescuing several small children from a rabid dog while they were playing near his old home. The wound was dressed and healed and it was believed he was on the way to recovery until Sunday, when he complained of a pain in his hand. A physician examined him and found him too far gone to be taken to the Pasteur Institute.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Laura C. Winchell, wife of Judge E. C. Winchell, died in this city yesterday, after a lingering illness.

She came to California in 1852 by the Nicaragua route, taking up her residence in Sacramento, where she became identified with the early educational interests of the State, and teaching in the public schools.

She leaves besides her husband, two sons and a daughter, Libby, Mrs. A. Winchell, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Anna C. Winchell of this city.

S.S.S. CURES CATARRH

During the warm Summer months Catarrh sufferers are not troubled with the effects of the disease, as in Winter. This is true because in the heated season every pore and outlet of the skin is open, and a constant, copious evaporation carries off with it a large percentage of the impurities and poisons which produce Catarrh. But at the first sign of cooler weather the sufferer's comfort ends; the skin does not secrete as freely, a congested condition of the system takes place, and soon every miserable symptom of Catarrh is harassing and causing discomfort to the unfortunate ones.

Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease, one which no amount of local treatment will ever reach and permanently cure. The beneficial effects of washes, sprays, inhalations, lotions, etc., are only temporary, and when left off the old condition returns because the blood is infected with catarrhal matter and impurities. This inflames and irritates the mucous membrane and tissues and produces the symptoms of ringing noises in the head and ears, mucus in the throat, headaches, watery eyes, partial deafness, sore throat, general impairment of the health, etc.

To cure Catarrh permanently the blood must be purified, and the system cleansed of all morbid matters, and at the same time strengthened and built up. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head, goes down to the very bottom of the trouble in the blood, and makes a permanent and lasting cure. S. S. S. removes every particle of the catarrhal matter from the circulation, making this vital fluid pure, fresh and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, because they are nourished with pure, health-giving blood, the head is cleared, mucus stops dropping back into the throat, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and health restored. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers and cures Catarrh by driving out the cause from the system. Being made entirely of healthful vegetable ingredients S. S. S. does not contain any habit forming drugs, which really do not cure Catarrh but often ruin the health; nor will S. S. S. injure the most delicate systems. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.

VICES CAUSE OF WRECKS, HE SAYS

Jealousy and Social Ambitions Also Setbacks for Engineers, Causing Accidents.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. — Railroad wrecks in this country are brought about by railroad employees who drink, gamble and indulge in other forms of dissipation, and not because they are overworked, according to the theory advanced yesterday by Dr. R. W. Corwin, division surgeon of the Missouri Pacific at Pueblo.

In a paper read before the New York and New England Association of Railway Surgeons at the Academy of Medicine in this city he made the statement. These are some of the causes Dr. Corwin assigns for railway accidents for which employees are responsible:

Gambling. Jealousy. Drinking. Smoking to excess. Domestic troubles. Social ambitions.

"An engineer who backed his train into an excursion train," said Dr. Corwin, "was found to have been weeping over the fact that the night before he had gambled away his pay check."

"It may be necessary to reorganize the medical departments of the railways of the country. It is far better to keep men in good physical condition than to effect cures; to provide employees with good environment."

Dr. Corwin told the greatest trouble the managers of large railroads have is to provide constant attractions to the saloon and gambling halls to which their men resort when off duty.

"Sometimes too, when have met and married women in cheap boarding houses, whose conditions were none of the best, and when the men were promoted, these wives were found to be inclined to them, as they failed to rise in the social scale with their husbands, or to share their ambitions."

TWO MASKED ROBBERS HOLD UP STREET CAR

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 18.—A car on the "S" line was held up at Twenty-first and Sherlock avenue shortly before midnight by two masked highwaymen. The conductor, William Oesch, was beaten over the head by one of the thugs and was relieved of about $25 and his watch, valued at $10. The motorman, Samuel Shin, was robbed of a $20 watch. The scene of the robbery is the extreme northern end of the line, close to the Northern Pacific tracks. The hold up was carried out in much the same manner as the one which occurred at the other end of the city shortly after midnight yesterday and the police believe the same men committed both crimes.

FINEST DRY GOODS STORE IN ALL THE WEST

TAFT & PENNOYER

In Their Magnificent New Home
In Clay Street, Between
14th and 15th Streets

THE firm of H. C. Taft began business in Oakland in 1876 in the DeJager block, Fourteenth and Broadway. Several years afterwards Mr. Pennoyer became a partner and since that time the firm has been Taft & Pennoyer.

As business increased with the growth of Oakland, this firm acquired additional space on both the Broadway and Fourteenth street sides of the block, and has for ten years past occupied the large quarters from which it moved October 1 to the magnificent Taft & Pennoyer building on Clay street.

The new Taft & Pennoyer building, while not the largest, although it contains a floor area of 109,988 square feet, is without exception the best appointed and best planned dry goods store in the United States. This device than can add to the fire proofing, to the strength, to the earthquake proofing, to convenience, to comfort and to the expediting of merchandising that is not found in the Taft & Pennoyer building.

The immense basement is a marvel of cement and concrete work. It is lighted with the most approved sidewalk illuminated and with a complete electric light system which makes it the largest, safest and most convenient store house for goods to be found on the Pacific Coast.

The entire three stories are planned so that there can be the most perfect display of goods and to that the pleasure of shopping will be emphasized. The magnificent mahogany and oak fixtures, the rich arc lamps, the very latest system of glass and mirror show cases—the entire system

Here, flooded with light from all sides, is the large cloak and suit department. A score of dressing rooms and most carefully planned work rooms, large cabinets and display cases for the best fashion produces, an evening room and all conveniences that ladies expect in a modern store are connected with this very important department.

On the second floor also are the cloaks and suits, waists, skirts, mudlin underwear, knit underwear, children's wear, corsets and similar lines.

The extensive Taft & Pennoyer millinery department has a magnificent floor space on the Fifteenth street sides on the second floor.

The work rooms are next to the windows, guaranteeing the most pleasant and healthful conditions to the workers. Millinery display cases, this summer, Mr. Taft visited all the leading toy-making cities of Switzerland, Germany and France, and selected what he believes is the best collection of mechanical toys that will be found in the United States during the coming holiday season.

Next comes the immense crockery, cut glass, art and bric-a-brac department, always a strong feature of the Taft & Pennoyer organization and under the new conditions destined to be far greater than in the past.

The art needlework department includes all kinds of material for knitting, crocheting, embroidering and art needlework generally.

Draperies and rugs have a large section of the third floor, and blankets and bedding also have a very large floor space, enabling them to the most ambitious displays.

Perfect Fire Protection

A strong feature of the Taft & Pennoyer building is the marvelous fire protection system which spreads over every portion of the entire structure from roof to basement, making it possible at a moment's notice to flood any portion of the entire building with water from thousands of automatic fire plugs which get into operation should the temperature of any portion of the store reach a point that is considered dangerous. This water system is supplied from a very strong building well on the building site which is operated with a powerful electric pump.

The comfort of the building is assured by a complete system of hot air heaters which are placed all over the building and which are operated from a powerful engine department in the basement.

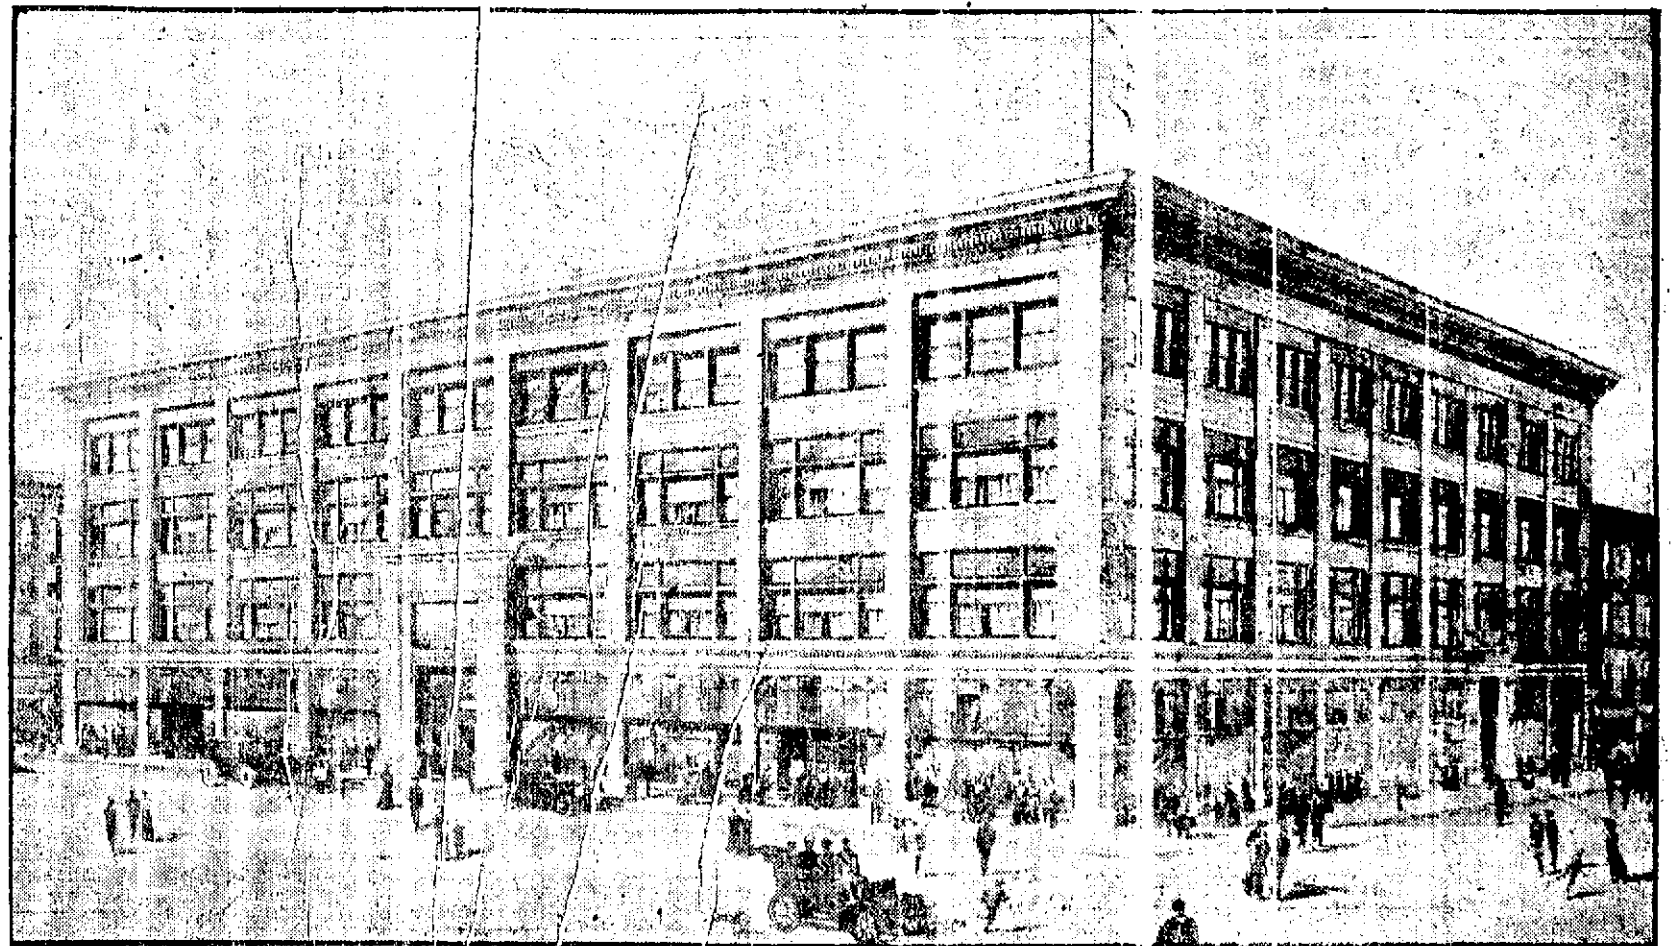

The electric lighting system consists of a great many circuits, each of which is operated independently, so that in case of minor accidents only a small portion of the store would be affected at any one time.

Ventilation.

The large windows of the upper two stories are of the most modern type, arranged to work on pivots insuring most perfect ventilation in all kinds of weather.

Five years ago when Taft & Pennoyer bought the present site, it was thought that the locality was too far removed from the business center to be available for a successful store. The trend of business during the last few years has dissipated this idea and the big Taft & Pennoyer block is as handy to shoppers as any block in the city. From West Oakland, from San Pablo avenue, from Fourteenth street, it is most conveniently reached, and all ready, although only opened a few weeks, this magnificent tribute to the confidence that Taft & Pennoyer have in Oakland has already been accorded the patronage that a few years ago no one would have dreamed of.

Taft & Pennoyer are large direct importers and the buyers make semi-annual trips to the East and Europe. For the approaching holiday season an immense stock of novelties has been assembled which cannot be surpassed in any city on the coast. With all the commercial buildings that have been done in San Francisco there is no single store today of such pretentious proportion and of such a remarkable completeness and up-to-dateness as the Taft & Pennoyer block.

BUILDING.

MAIN FLOOR—JEWELRY DEPARTMENT.

is saying a great deal, but there is foundation for it. Mr. Taft traveled through the largest cities of this country searching for the very best ideas. He found some in New York, some in Chicago, some in Los Angeles, but he drew the great-st portion of his plans from the magnificent McCreary store at Pittsburg which is credited with being the most perfect dry goods store in the country. The new Taft & Pennoyer building contains many improvements, even on the magnificent Pittsburg model.

When it is considered that the department stores of the United States are adjudged by those competent to give an opinion to be seventy-five per cent better than the department stores of London or the continent, it will readily be seen that the Taft & Pennoyer building stands in a very high class among the big department stores of the world.

Everything Up To Date.

There is absolutely no up-to-date of fixtures is simply marvelous in its completeness, effectiveness and appearance.

On the main floor are distributed all those goods that are ready for immediate delivery. Here are the dress goods, silks, gentlemen's furnishings, ribbons, notions, patterns, embroideries, handkerchiefs, laces, neckwear, veiling, umbrellas, gloves, shoes, flannels, white goods, trimmings and linings, jewelry and perfumery, stationery, auto and traveling supplies and allied lines. The sagacity of this selection of goods for the main floor is seen in the fact that these are the lines that are most frequently in demand, and consequently shoppers find them with the least effort.

Light-Flood Place.

Magnificent elevators carry visitors to the second floor, where will be found those lines especially which necessitate fitting and alterations.

stock rooms, ladies' retiring rooms and parlor are also connected with the millinery department, which is fitted throughout in the very best style known to the department store world.

Magnificent Promenade.

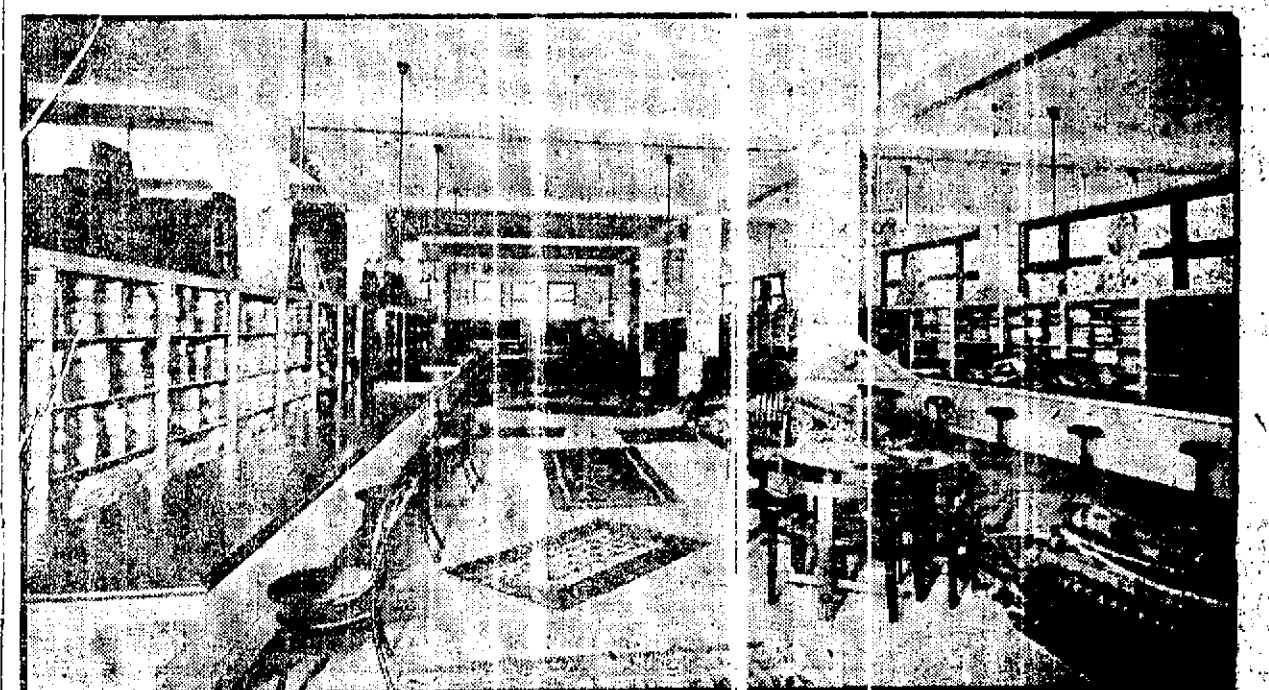

The entire Fifteenth-street frontage on the second floor is laid with maple, making a magnificent promenade for ladies to fully inspect the technical and fashionable points of garments while being tried on and fitted. A very elaborate and generous use of mirrors throughout this floor adds very largely to the general grand effect.

On the third floor, enjoying constant light, sunshine and fresh air, are the large and exceptionally equipped alteration rooms for the cloak and suit department.

On the third floor also will be found an entirely new department, that of mechanical toys. While in Europe

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER TAKES THE WITNESS-STAND

GIVES HIS ANSWERS CLEARLY

MILLIONAIRE TELLS OF EARLY CAREER

On His Way to the Court-room the Magnate Braves Newspaper Photographs But Does Not Mind Them.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil Company, made his appearance as a witness for the defense in the Federal suit to dissolve the so-called "oil trust" today.

Ex-Judge Franklin Ferris, master of the proceedings, has ordered that no spectators be permitted to enter the chamber, and policemen posted at the door turned back an insistent throng that besieged the room where the testimony was being taken.

Mr. Rockefeller had left the offices of the Standard Oil Company shortly before 2 p. m. He was accompanied to the customs house, where the hearing is being held, by John G. Milburn and Morris Rosenthal, of counsel for the Standard Oil Company. On his way Mr. Rockefeller was photographed by several newspaper photographers. He made no objection.

Testifies Clearly

Mr. Rockefeller had scarcely entered the court room when his counsel motioned him to take the witness stand. The president of the Standard Oil Company gave his testimony in a clear, resonant voice, which could be heard all over the room.

"Mr. Rockefeller, what is your full name?" asked Mr. Miller.

"John D. Rockefeller."

"Where do you live?"

"My legal residence is in this city, at 4 West Fifty-fourth street."

"What was your first connection in the oil business?"

"About 1860 or 1862, not earlier than 1860 or later than 1862. I was then a young man, much younger than I am now."

Early Associates

In reply to the question as to who was associated with him in the oil business in the beginning, he gave the names of Morris James and Richard Clark and Samuel Andrews.

"A co-partnership was formed," said Rockefeller, "known as Andrews, Clark & Co., which operated at Cleveland, Ohio."

Rockefeller said that the refinery was a small one and his co-partnership with Andrews, Clark & Co., continued until 1866, when it was dissolved.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

ad. "I bought the business and the property, and I organized the firm of Rockefeller & Andrews," he said. "Did you continue in the refinery business?"

"Yes."

Business Increased

"Did your business increase?"

"Yes," said Rockefeller, "it increased steadily."

"What developments or changes in the company took place later?"

"Well, in 1866 there was a change. The firm was Wm. Rockefeller & Co. The 'Rockefeller' was William, my brother, and the 'Co.' was Rockefeller and Andrews."

Mr. Rockefeller stated the refinery of this company was in Cleveland; that afterwards another company, under the name of Wm. Rockefeller & Co., was organized in New York. The same firm members that composed the Cleveland company made up the New York company.

Asked what had been the course of the oil business up to the time of the organization of the Standard Oil company of Ohio, Mr. Rockefeller replied:

"We had a steady growth and increase from the organization of the first firm in 1860 until that time."

Saving Expenses

Mr. Rockefeller said that every member of the firm devoted his entire time and attention to promoting the company's growth, and that none of them had other business. He said the company did a refining and warehouse business, and that his brother, William Rockefeller, took up his residence in New York to develop the business here and to save expenses.

"When did the next change take place?"

"In 1867, although properties of Rockefeller & Andrews, Wm. Rockefeller & Company and Rockefeller & Company were taken over under the firm name of Rockefeller, Andrews & Flagler."

FRIDAY 13 BLASTED HOME

STUHLMACHERS HAD TRUST IN TROUBLE

Divorce Complaint Recites Money Lost on Ponies, Dog Beaten, Boy Sent From Home and Wife Injured.

When Bernhard H. Stuhlman, a taurin man, lost on the races, he can home and beat his wife, son, and little dog, according to the divorce complaint filed today by Mrs. Kate Stuhlman of 665 East Sixteenth street.

Friday the thirteen was an unlucky day for all those who crossed the path of Stuhlman, according to the complaint on file with the county clerk. On this day of the present month, says the document, he lost money on the ponies at Emeryville and came home in an ugly mood. Without provocation, declares the wife, he beat their little dog until she remonstrated with him. Stuhlman spared the dog, says his wife, by turning on her and dealing out a blow which gave her a black eye.

Mrs. Stuhlman says her spouse took a decided dislike to their twelve-year-old son and made him pack up his clothes and leave home. While he was packing up, vows the complaint, Stuhlman struck him over the head with a cane. When the mother of the boy attempted to protect him, she says she was beaten by her husband until two ribs were broken, rendering her to bed for a period of three weeks.

The complaint, which was drawn up by Attorney E. E. Gehring, cites several other instances of alleged cruelty, principally the alleged scolding of the defendant at the plaintiff.

Mrs. Stuhlman asks the court for a division of the family property in East Oakland, which she values at $3000, $250 counsel fees, $50 costs and $35 a month alimony.

THREE SMALL BOYS PROVE BOLD BURGLARS

Confess That They Entered Two Stores in Melrose and One in Oakland.

MELROSE, Nov. 18.—Three self-confessed boy burglars, none of them over 14 years of age, were charged with burglary and taken to the county jail yesterday. They were arrested, night before last by Constable William C. Allen, to whom they confessed to three recent crimes. It is believed that they are responsible for a number of recent burglaries that have taken place in Fruitvale.

The boys are D. Misco, J. Deering and F. Curley, all residents of Melrose. They admitted that they had broken into Black & Davin's store in Fruitvale a week ago and stolen three bicycles. They also confessed that they had robbed Lane's market in Melrose of a large quantity of groceries and provisions. Two weeks ago, according to their story, they made a daylight haul at Schleuter's store in Oakland, securing a quantity of firearms.

Press Is Divided About the Emperor

PARIS, Nov. 18.—The opinion of the French press is divided regarding the international effect of Emperor William's consent to avoid, in the future, personal intervention in the foreign affairs of the empire. While a majority of the papers consider the Majesty's assumption beneficial to the country and a victory for the German people, as against personal rule, some of them, and notably the Figaro, express confidence in the sincerity of His Majesty's pacific intentions and they recall occasions upon which he interfered in the interest of peace.

Alarmed by People, Ask for Warships

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 18.—Advice from St. Pierre Miquelon today state that the crowd continue to gather in the streets and about the government house in spite of the police interference. The colonial officials, the dispatch says, have decided to ask the home government to send to St. Pierre French warships which are understood to be now at New York to assist in keeping order.

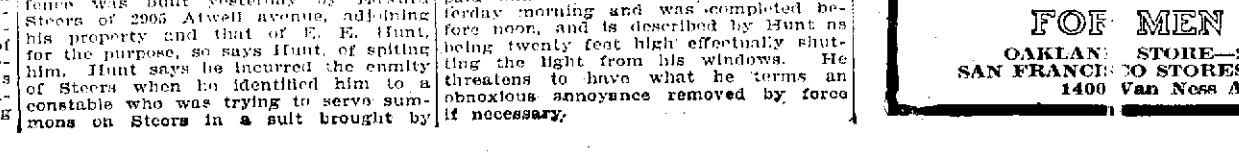

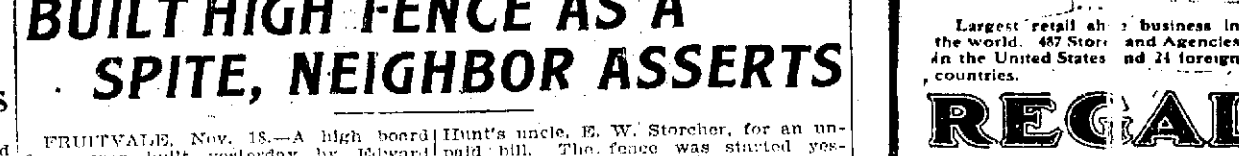

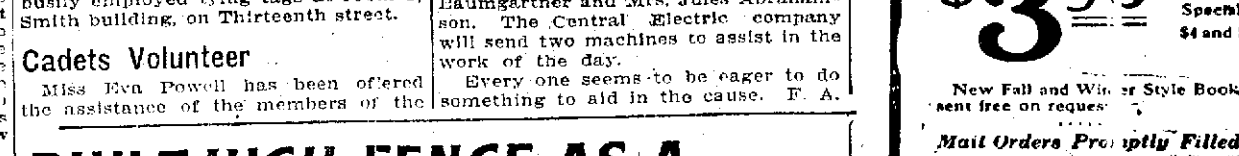

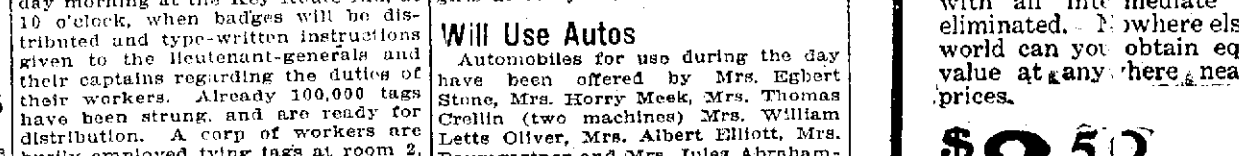

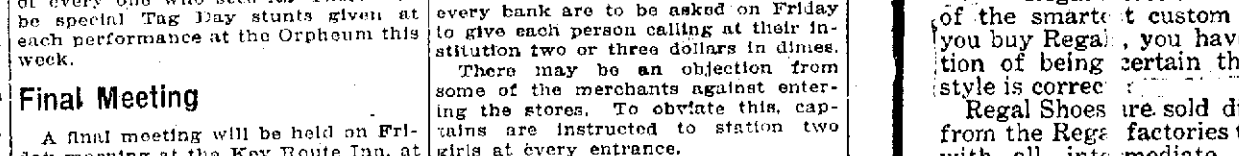

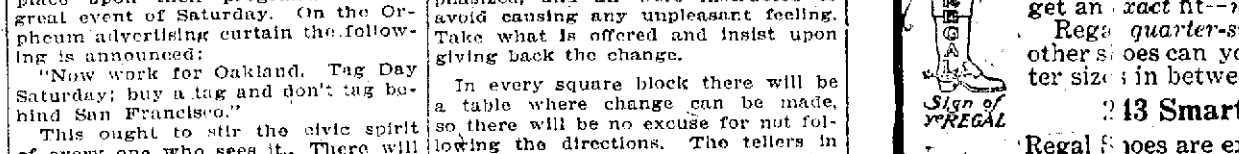

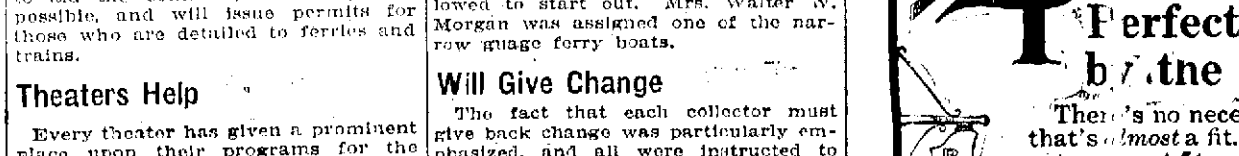

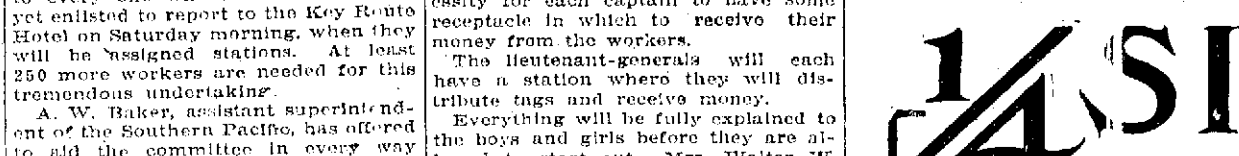

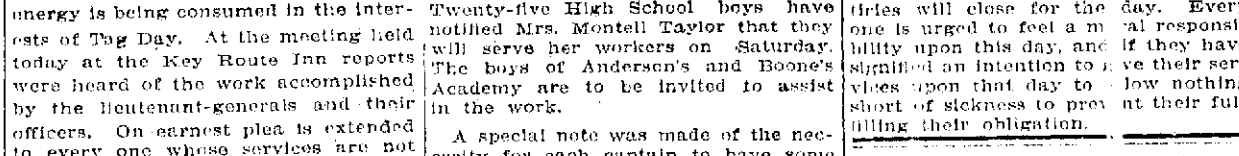

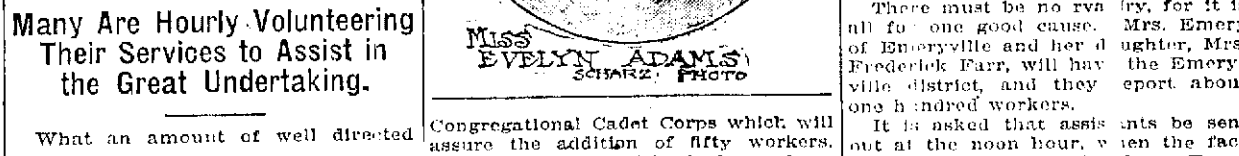

Austrian Town Under Montenegrin Guns

VIENNA, Nov. 18.—Advice received here from Cetinje, the capital of Montenegro, declare that the telegraph line between Cetinje and Cattaro, a seaport of Austria, has been cut and that Montenegrins are mounting guns on the slopes dominating Cattaro. Furthermore Montenegrins have occupied the Duppas leading into Herzegovina with troops.

COUNT BONI ATTACKS EX-WIFE

DECLARES CHILDREN IN IMMORAL PLACE

Action to Get Custody of Off-springs Continued--Report That Princess de Sagan Wants Separation.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—The hearing of the suit brought by Count Boni de Castellane against Princess Helie de Sagan, for the custody of three children, was today postponed until Nov. 25. This action was taken at the request of Albert Clemenceau, counsel for the princess, who announced that he had just entered the case and it was consequently impossible for him to proceed today.

Princess de Sagan was Anna Gould of New York before she married the Count de Castellane. She secured a divorce from him, after which she married Prince Helie de Sagan.

Claims Immorality

Mr. Bonnet, Count de Castellane's lawyer, did not oppose the request of M. Clemenceau for postponement, but he formally petitioned the court to place the children in the care of the Marquise de Castellane, mother of Count Boni, pending a settlement of the case on the ground that they were uncomfortable and ill in the house of their mother, the princess, and because it was desirable that they should escape the atmosphere, unhealthy both morally and physically, which, he alleged, pervaded the home of the mother. The court ruled that it could not pass upon the question today and the entire matter went over for one week.

Castellane Present

Count de Castellane was present in court and listened attentively, as M. Bonnet set forth that the count was unable to see his children on account of their illness and that the doctor had been forbidden to send him any news of them.

"The children have need of that calm and peace which they will find in the home of their grandmother," M. Bonnet declared. He then said that he had agreed to various propositions already because he understood that the princess had decided to seek a separation from her husband, but inasmuch as the princess had denied this report, he could see no reason why the suit should not proceed. The court, however, granted the postponement.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT LIKELY TO RECOVER

Mrs. Rosalie Butler, who was thrown from a bridge yesterday morning while driving near the Twelfth-street dam, in East Oakland, is still in a serious condition at her home, 1730 East Ninth avenue. Her injuries were internal and it is feared her spine was severely injured.

As yet the doctors are unable to tell the full extent of her injuries, but they do not think her injuries will prove fatal.

Webster, the photographer, has been most generous in making prints for use in the daily papers.

Volunteers are asked for the evening of the girls will become greatly increased in the usual way. The Free Market district will be under ant-general officers at the Oakland New Century Clubhouse on Perilla and Fifth street.

Rivalry Barred

There must be no rivalry in any of the one good cause. Mrs. Emory of Emeryville and her daughter, Frederick Parr, will have the district, and they are one hundred workers.

It is asked that assistants be sent out at the noon hour, when the ladies will close for the day. Every one is urged to feel a responsibility upon this day, and signified an intention to give their services upon that day to help in short of sickness to prevent filling their obligation.

Congressional Cadet Corps which will assure the addition of fifty workers. Twenty-five High School boys have notified Mrs. Montell Taylor that they will serve her workers on Saturday.

The boys of Anderson's and Boone's Academy are to be invited to assist in the work.

A special note was made of the necessity for each captain to have some receptacle in which to receive their money from the workers.

The lieutenant-generals will each have a station where they will distribute tags and receive money.

Everything will be fully explained to the boys and girls before they are allowed to start out. Mrs. Walter W. Morgan was assigned one of the narrow gauge ferry boats.

The fact that each collector must give back change was particularly emphasized, and all were instructed to avoid causing any unpleasant feeling. Take what is offered and insist upon giving back the change.

In every square block there will be a table where change can be made, so there will be no excuse for not following the directions. The tellers in every block are to be asked on Friday to give each person calling at their institution two or three dollars in dimes.

There may be an objection from some of the merchants against entering the stores. To obviate this, captains are instructed to station two girls at every entrance.

Will Give Change

Automobiles for use during the day have been offered by Mrs. Egbert Stone, Mrs. Henry Meek, Mrs. Thomas Crollin (two machines) Mrs. William Letts Oliver, Mrs. Albert Elliott, Mrs. Baumgartner and Mrs. Jules Abrahamson. The Central Electric company will send two machines to assist in the work of the day.

Every one seems to be eager to do something to aid in the cause. F. A.

Theaters Help

Every theater has given a prominent place upon their programs for the great event of Saturday. On the Orpheum advertising curtain the following is announced:

"Now work for Oakland. Tag Day Saturday; buy a tag and don't tag behind San Francisco."

This ought to stir the civic spirit of every one who sees it. There will be special Tag Day stunts given at each performance at the Orpheum this week.

Final Meeting

A final meeting will be held on Friday morning at the Key Route Inn, at 10 o'clock, when badges will be distributed and type-written instructions given to the lieutenant-generals and their workers regarding the duties of their workers. Already 100,000 tags have been strung, and are ready for distribution. A corp of workers are busily employed tying tags at room 2, Smith building, on Thirteenth street.

BUILT HIGH FENCE AS A SPITE, NEIGHBOR ASSERTS

FRUITVALE, Nov. 18.—A high board fence was built yesterday by Edward Steers of 2905 Atwell avenue, adjoining his property and that of E. E. Hunt, for the purpose, so says Hunt, of spitting him. Hunt says he incurred the enmity of Steers when he identified him to a constable who was trying to serve summons on Steers in a suit brought by Hunt's uncle, E. W. Storcher, for an unpaid bill. The fence was erected yesterday morning and was completed before noon, and is described by Hunt as being twenty feet high effectively shutting the light from his windows. He threatens to have what he terms an obnoxious annoyance removed by force if necessary.

TREASURY DEFICIT INCREASES $7,000

S. F. Accountants Discover Further Irregularities, Making the Total $67,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—The total of the shortage alleged to exist in the city treasury has risen from $60,000 to $67,000, according to the report of the S. F. accountants, who are conducting the investigation, reporting to the Mayor yesterday that the $7,000 had been found missing in addition to the $60,000 previously reported.

In a brief report, supplemental to that filed on October 30th, the experts state that the money was paid out from the treasury, according to the books of the office, in four different sums between the date May 25, 1906, and December 30, 1907, and, so far as the experts can discover, without proper warrant or vouchers.

The statement is made in the report that this is apparently all of the shortage, no indication of anything wrong appearing subsequently to the last date mentioned or during the term of the present Treasurer McDougald.

The report of the experts was not made public in full, but the following paragraphs explain why the experts consider these vouchers warranted in classing the $7,000 mentioned, at least for the present, with the $60,000 previously reported to be missing:

Partial Report

"Disbursements by the Treasurer on account of the County Clerk special deposit fund should only be made upon court orders and it is customary for the Treasurer to retain such court orders on file as vouchers in support of his disbursements. These court orders should also be of record in the office of the County Clerk. We have found in the Treasurer's office court orders supporting all disbursements by the Treasurer on account of the County Clerk special deposit fund for the period above referred to, April 18, 1906, to September 30, 1908, with the exception of the following disbursements:

May 25th, 1906—No description.....	$ 500
Dec. 10, 1907—Described as "Sundry accounts, 2 papers lost".....	4,000
Dec. 24, 1907—Described as "Von Keeser" paid to J. Ferguson, 1,000	1,000
Dec. 30, 1907—Described as "Von Keeser" paid to J. Ferguson, 1,000	1,000
Known paid.....	1,500
Total.....	$7,000

It was explained at the Mayor's office that in the third item the name "Von Keeser" should be "Dan Keeser," also that this alleged payment was supposed to have been made on account of an estate having a balance in the custody of the City Treasurer.

MAN SAYS WIFE WAITED WITH GUN

John B. Hauer in Divorce Suit Said He Had been Pursued Many Times With Gun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—John B. Hauer, the well known insurance man, was granted a divorce from Antonette Hauer by Judge Trout yesterday. He told of having been pursued by his wife with a pistol on a number of occasions. April 16 last, Hauer said, he found his wife waiting for him on the stairway of his office with a revolver. Later in the day, disguised in a long cloak, a little black hat, dark goggles and a heavy veil, she waited for him at the corner of Second and Market streets, near where his automobile was standing. He also learned that the same day she awaited him outside the restaurant where he usually ate his lunch. All the time she carried a loaded revolver, and when spoken to by R. G. Givett, a friend of Hauer's, she said she was waiting for "Johnny," meaning her husband. Hauer was compelled to go home early that day. Other attempts on his life were related by Hauer.

Judge Graham said yesterday he was very much opposed to persons coming to San Francisco and establishing a legal residence for the sake of obtaining divorce. The remark was called forth by the testimony in the suit of Florence L. Voss, who applied for divorce from Carl C. Voss on the ground of cruelty. Mrs. Voss came to this city from Chicago May 9 and began her suit September 2. The case went over for additional testimony.

WED UNEXPECTEDLY IN BACK ROOM OF OFFICE

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 18.—Mrs. Sophia Harrison Eastman, daughter of Carter H. Harrison, the elder, late mayor of Chicago, was married at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to Baker Everett Edwards of Norfolk, Va. The ceremony was performed in the back room of a lawyer's office in Asheville by Major F. N. Waddell, a magistrate, and was entirely unexpected.

Half an hour before they were made husband and wife Mrs. Eastman and Edwards had no idea they could be married for several days, as they had postponed action until something could be learned of the movements of Mrs. Letitia Newlands Edwards, the divorced wife of the Virginian. The first Mrs. Edwards was in the office at 4 o'clock and at 4:30 dark plots came out of the room, after Edwards learned from his lawyers that there was no legal ground upon which the woman could reopen the divorce case he gave word to go ahead, and the justice was called in.

Mrs. Eastman was arrested recently under a law which forbids an unchaperoned woman to live in a house with a male companion.

Frederick Harrison, brother of Mrs. Edwards, gave the bride away. Mrs. Heaton Ostwey, her sister, acted as matron of honor.

WILL PLAY AGAIN. The Olympic-San Mateo football game played last Sunday, which resulted in a victory for the winner "O," was ordered replayed at the meeting of the Western Football League last night. WHY SUFFER?

Breath Hyomei and Kill the Loathsome Catarrh Germs

Just as long as you have catarrh your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and spit, and you will do other disgusting things because you can't help yourself. The germs of catarrh have got you in their power; they are continually and persistently digging into and irritating the mucous membrane of your nose and throat. They are now making your life miserable; in time they will sap your entire system of its energy, its strength, its vigor and vitality.

If you do not kill the loathsome germs of catarrh, their desperate assaults will in time undermine your reason, rob your brain of its brilliancy and activity, and leave you not only a physical but a mental wreck.

This picture is not overdrawn; the writer has seen thousands of just such cases. He has personally experienced the demoralizing results that come from the ravishing attacks of the horrible catarrh germs, the greatest pest of civilized nations.

Just there is one remedy that will kill the germs and cure catarrh, and that is Hyomei, the Australian dry air treatment. There may be other remedies, but they are not guaranteed as leading druggists will guarantee Hyomei to cure catarrh, or money back. Don't delay this pleasant antiseptic treatment. Every day you allow these germs to exist in your system brings you nearer to complete demoralization. Any of the leading druggists will sell you a complete Hyomei outfit for only $1.00. Ask them about it. It is also guaranteed to cure bronchitis, asthma, coughs, colds and hay fever.

RUNAWAY NEARLY CRASHES INTO

CRASHES THROUGH WINDOW

FRUITVALE, Nov. 18.—But for the presence of mind of Albert Bows, proprietor of the Pioneer cigar store at 321 East Fourteenth street, who leaped over his high counter and intercepted a madly dashed horse that was about to plunge through the plate glass windows of Joe Adams, the butcher, yesterday, a catastrophe was probably averted. The butcher shop was filled with customers at the time, and had the horse dashed into the store several of them would probably have been injured.

The horse took flight and started to run, dragging with it a heavy bicycle rack to which he was tied. The animal ran on to the sidewalk and made straight for Adams' store, into which it would probably have plunged had not Bows caught it in time to prevent serious consequences. The horse, which belongs to A. I. Helan, was not injured, but the bugle to which it was attached was smashed.

OUT OF WORK; ENDS LIFE

(Special to The Tribune)

SAN FRANCISCO Nov 18.—Eldridge, the vigilance of his wife and children, P. J. Manning of 2464 Clay street, committed suicide after a 38-hour vigil in the bedroom of his home through dependency caused by lack of employment.

Manning, who was about 50 years old, arose this morning as usual and breakfasted with his family. As soon as the morning meal was over he slipped from the room, and going upstairs, barricaded his bedroom door. He then attached a tube to the gas jet and lay down to die.

After about fifteen minutes his wife, who had missed him ran to his room and knocked on the door, and receiving no response, she became frantic with fear and shouted for help. The door was forced and Dr. F. M. Weiss, who lives next door, summoned. When he arrived the man was dead.

SPECIAL OFFICER TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

(Special to The Tribune)

SAN FRANCISCO Nov 18.—Special Officer Barnes Connolly of the Morse patrol was a little too polly on Burbery coast early this morning and after a flourish with a revolver, Policeman Sullivan decided to take him into custody. This was too much for Connolly, and in the nick of time followed the latter received a wound over the right eye by being thrown to the pavement.

After being treated at the Central Emergency hospital he was locked up under protest, charged with carrying concealed weapons.

THE KLAMATH IRRIGATION PROJECT.

The Klamath project is a sufficiently important one to merit a full and complete investigation. It is a project which has been in the minds of the people of the Klamath region for many years. The project is to build a dam across the Klamath river, and to use the water to irrigate the lands on either side of the river. The project is a very large one, and it is one which will require a great deal of money to carry out. The project is a very important one, and it is one which will have a great effect on the people of the Klamath region.

LOCATION.—The project occupies an area in the northern portion of the Klamath region, in the counties of Curry and Del Norte. Adjacent to the project lands are two more lakes used as a service for the people of the Klamath region. These are the Upper Klamath lake and the Lower Klamath lake. The Upper Klamath lake is a very large one, and it is one which will require a great deal of money to carry out. The project is a very important one, and it is one which will have a great effect on the people of the Klamath region.

The streams of the project are two from mountain water sheds and both streams and lakes contain water of high purity for irrigation and other uses. So much for the project. Now then if you are at all interested you can get more information by attending the optional lecture next Thursday evening at 8:00 P. M. at the San Pablo avenue. These lectures begin about 8 o'clock and are free to the public. The lecturer is very familiar with the country having traveled all over it, and has about 150 fine views illustrating all of its different phases.

HEAR NEW THEORY AS TO ORIGIN OF CANCER

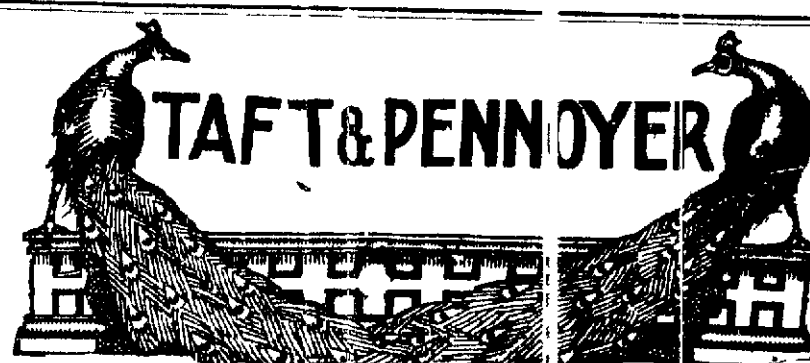

BUFFALO, Nov 18.—The Buffalo Academy of Medicine last night heard a new theory as to the origin of cancer. Dr. Hiram D. Walker formerly of Newburgh, N. Y. but now living here, said in a paper on the subject that seven years' experiments had proved to his satisfaction that cancer is a parasite disease and that the common garden worm is the source of the parasite which produces cancer. The transmission of the parasite from the worm to the human being comes from the worm crawling over fresh vegetables.
